

The FCC should not infringe on my rights to pursue through my state government the No Call List.

There should not be any reductions in my privacy by allowing businesses to increase their ability to contact me. If I want information from someone I know how to get ahold of them.

The Indiana law has cut down from 18-20 calls a week down to 1-3. I would have liked to put tighter restrictions to eliminate them all.

I am no longer interrupted multiple times during dinner.
